TOMATO CROPS HURT BY WEATHER

Prospects for a good truck crop in the Cameron area and in other sections of the County where these crops are among the major farm yields, were regarded as unfavorable.

Weather conditions during the early planting season for tomatoes and other crops have been the most severe in recent years. In some sections of the County tomato farmers have planted as many as three times and now insects are taking a heavy toll. Conditions in Milam County are no worse than over the farm belt generally and with anything like a reasonable production, growers here should be able to share in the market as well as the average. The tomato crop will be late and production may be short.

Prospects were much better for canteloup and watermellons because of the time element. With a reduction acreage farmers in the major crop areas will have to find more uses for their land. Truck crops are confined to sandy land areas where no cotton is produced. The tomato farmer beginning early saw his efforts wasted when cold weather, high winds and drought combined to defeat early planting advantages. Tomatoes are sold in major volume in the market for greens. With a late crop the supply of ripe tomatoes should be abundant. Cameron was still a little behind in opportunity because it has no canning plant.

Milk Bowl Funds May Be Used For Ranch For Boys

GAUSE, April 25—Here in a town that's little more than a bend in the road, The Milk Bowl, Inc., is making big plans.

It's going to break into the national football bowl picture. It also is going to use the money gained thereby to found a ranch for homeless and underprivileged boys.

The Milk Bowl is a game for peewee teams—boys 14 years of age and under weighing between 90 and 110 pounds. It was held the first time last year with amazing results. Now everybody wants to get into the act. Chambers of Commerce over Texas are busy nominating their localities for consideration next December to furnish the host team.

Right now it appears the Chicago peewee champions, sponsored by Red Grange, will be the visiting team. The game will be at nearby Cameron unless the ticket sale is so large it has to be moved to a city with a big stadium.

Proceeds from the game will go into a fund to buy a 1,200-acre ranch. E. C. Weafer, secretary of The Milk Bowl, Inc., says the game will furnish enough money for it.

Some 35 or 40 boys will be taken to the ranch to learn farming and farm trades and to raise cattle.

Gause Man Named Road Maintenance Foreman In County

J. A. Boling of Gause has been appointed Highway Maintenance Supervisor for Milam County.

Mr. Boling succeeds Henry Reeves of Ben Arnold who has held the job for 26 years.

Mr. Boling took over maintenance duties on April 1.

It was understood here that Mr. Boling will make his home in Cameron since the headquarters building and equipment is located here and Cameron would be a central point from which to operate with maintenance crews.

The appointment of Mr. Boling was announced by the Highway Department shortly after Mr. Reeves had reached the retirement age. The maintenance supervisor is well known throughout the County and has had years of experience in this type of work.

Walter Eixman of Arlington and Raymond Eixman of Baytown spent several days here and attended the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Doris Eixman held in Rosebud Thursday.

VERA FISHER SEEKS A SECOND TERM

Vera Fisher, County Treasurer for Milam County, will be a candidate to succeed herself in this office at the coming primary election to be held on Saturday, July 22.

Miss Fisher is serving her first term in this office and is asking for a second term by seeking the nomination in July.

In making her formal anouncement for a second term she submits a good record of service and acknowledges with deep appreciation the support of many in all sections of the County who know that she has served well in this important office and they will be active in her behalf in the coming primary election.

For the first time in many years the office of County Treasurer has had the advantage of one who is able and capable of doing all of the work incident to the discharge of these duties and Miss Fisher has saved the

DOGWOOD TRAIL IS ASSURED

REEVES RETIRES FROM HIGHWAY

CENSUS TAKE NEARING END

TICKETS GO ON SALE HERE FOR 1951 TRAIL

Dogwood Trails in Milam County were one step nearer realization this week when tickets were placed on sale at the law offices of M. G. Cox in Cameron and other places over the county.

Mr. Cox first called attention to the Dogwood Trail three years ago at Cameron Rotary Club. On Wednesday of last week Gene Walker of Gause was guest speaker and announced the plan to sell one thousand tickets at $1.00 each as a preliminary to opening the trial in March of 1951.

Dogwood grows in abundance in the wilds south each of Gause, also north east of Milano and between Cameron and Gause. In order to make the main forest of Dogwood trees acceptable to sightseers near Gause the money will be used to improve and lay out trails for automobiles. Each ticket will be sold as a car pass and no restriction of the number in each car.

Due to the fact that many of the Dogwood trees are in a region not now acceptable to cars considerable work will have to be done to make road ways.

Mr. Walker was taking the matter of support to the Dogwood trail up with the Chamber of Commerce in Hearne and it was believed that support could be obtained there. Those who have seen Dogwood in bloom in Milam County say the trees are more gorgeous than those of East Texas where thousands go each year to Palestine to see the trees in bloom.

This is the first consideration yet made captalizing scenic beauty in Milam County .

Woman Found Dead in Tank Near Rosebud

ROSEBUD, May 3—Mrs. Agnes Shutin, 61, was found dead here this morning in a water tank about 200 yards from her farm home, according to Falls County Sheriff Brady Pamplin.

Survivors include her husband, who told Pamplin that he had last seen his wife last night when she was washing dishes. Shutin had retired early, Pamplin said, and did not know his wife was missing until her body was found this morning.

Justice of the Peace Jenkins was investigating this morning.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

CITY TO TAKE OVER WATER SYSTEM SOON

The city of Cameron will take over the water plant of the Community Public Service Company within the next thirty days and possibly not later than June 1, it was indicated by Mayor A. N. Green here Thursday.

Delay in perfecting the record was occassioned here last week when a flare-up of feeling between the Mayor and the City Council caused the Mayor to refuse to call a meeting or to meet with members of the Council when a representative of the Bond-

HIGHWAY MAN WITH DEPARTMENT 26 YEARS

With almost a third of a century of service with the Highway Department to his credit Henry Reeves of Ben Arnold retired from his post as maintenance foreman in Milam County on April 1.

Mr. Reeves, one of the best known men in the entire system will spend his time now at his farm near Splawn and with him will be memories of years that brought about evolution and Highway construction. When he began his work as County Commissioner back in 1918 paved highways were still a future progress in this area. The farm to market road we have today is far superior to the main highways in those days and County roads as they were known were thrown up by graders and were impassable during rainy seasons.

Mr. Reeves served as County Commisioner in Milam County until 1924 when he resigned to take the job of maintaining roads and highways in

SUMMER PRIMARY INTEREST BUILDING

The year 1950 is primary election year and political events are shaping up rapidly and interest was growing in County and State .

The political season each two years usually begins to unfold with the dogwood blossoms. Due to the fact that first primary election will be held on July 22 candidates do not begin to circulate to any extent before the warm days in May.

In preparation for the big elections the County Democratic Executive Committee was at work on a multitude of details leading up to the first meeting of the committee on June 19. The last day candidates for County and precinct offices may file for the ballot is June 17. Under a new

FINAL ROUNDUP ON NOSE COUNTING

Census enumerators in Cameron were nearing the end of their job as time ran out for their 1950 nose counting throughout the nation.

Billy Ables, director of the census in City of Cameron said that enumeration here was run 90 per cent complete and that workers would be called on to re-check their territories to see that no one has been overlooked. It was highly important that all those who had not been enumerated to contact Mr. Ables or anyone of the census takers. The larger the population in Cameron the better for the City because a City has greater advantages with an increase in population.

The Chamber of Commerce late in 1949 estimated that the population in Cameron was over 6800.

This figure was arrived at by taking water, electric and gas meters and making the average as is cuscomary by cities throughout the County to establish population totals.

Mr. Ables said that the census here might not show as large population as was anticipated. This was taken to indicate that higher figures mentioned by some would not prove out in the actual count.

Many people live outside the City limits and since Cameron has not extended its City limits at any time, with one exception the City will be deprived of a large percent of its population growth when official figures are announced by the Federal Government. It is highly important that everyone be counted and if you have not been contacted you owe it to your city to volunteer for enumeration at once.

RAIN, WINDSTORMS EASE UP IN TEXAS

Rains and violent winds let up in Texas Tuesday after a tornado smashed 30 or so East Texas farm buildings and injured one man.

More severe tornadic windstorms hit Central Louisiana and Central Mississippi as the low pressure area moved east out of Texas.

Monday night's heavy rains—up to 3.51 inches at Texarkana—sent many North and Central Texas streams over their banks. Farmers of the Trinity valley near Dallas were warned to move livestock to higher ground. The muddy stream swelled past flood stage.

The tornado swept across Rusk County in East Texas around midnight Monday. Jim Carraway of Chapman, 10 miles east of Henderson, was hurt, but not seriously.

Local outlook last night was for continued thundershowers today with cooler temperatures tonight and Thursday. April, the month usually associated here with showers, closed its books .52 inches below the normal total of precipitation past records indicate should fall during that period. Total precipitation for the month was 3.72 inches, with 1.36 inches of that amount falling in one 24-hour period on April 16, reports the U. S. Department of Commerce Weather Bureau at Municipal Airport.

The Trinity did not endanger Dallas, which is protected by high levees. Downstream from Dallas the stream was spreading out over the lowlands. The stream was expected to commence receding Wednesday.

U. S. Highway 67 from Dallas to Rockwall was under water and impassable early Tuesday. In North Texas, roads and fields were damaged by washing in the Bonham vicinity where 6.48 inches of rain fell after Friday.

The breaking of the cloud cover was welcomed in many parts of North and Central Texas, where muddy fields have delayed cotton planting ,encouraged wheat rust and smut, and washed some newly planted crops.

Leo Fuch's Ideal Poultry Farm Is Rating Increased Attention As A Breeding Center For Famous Egg Producing White Leghorn Chicks

By J. H. McADAMS
In Checkerboard News

Breeding poultry and managing hens to help them lay is a business with Leo Fuchs. Together with his twin brother, Leo started the Ideal Poultry Farm at Cameron in 1937. The farm has lived up to its name in many ways. The operation now includes 3000 Leghorn and New Hamshire layers, and ranks as one of the foremonst R. O. P. breeding farms in the county. Leading the parade to the trap nests is Lady Milam. In 9 years she made 1455 successful trips, and through October 19th of her tenth year had added 25 eggs to this record. A daughter of Lady Milam, designated as hen No. 354 laid 873 eggs in her first 3 years, then added 191 eggs in her fourth year to bring her total to 1064, or an average of 266 eggs per year.

To house these 3000 layers, to keep them comfortable and help make these laying records possible, Ideal Poultry Farm consists of 4 laying houses each 30' x 30', 6 houses each 24' x 30', and 6 house each 22' x 20'. Thus each hen has a housing space allowance of 3.5 square feet. Upon entering the laying house birds are kept confined. The houses are all of gable roof design, and were carefully planned to provide ample ventilation. Temperatures in the Cameron section dropped to zero during the winter of 1949, yet Leo has not found it necessary to insulate his houses.

All hens used in breeding pens are pedigreed and are mated with pedigreed males from hens laying 270 or more eggs per year. Leo normally runs 15 to 20 hens with one male to each pen. The hens are selected on a basis of complete family records. He also usually has 31 or 32 individual matings. He feeds Breeder Layena, Mash and Checkers.

Important as are breeding and management of layers after they reach the laying houses, Leo Fuch knows that without good management to keep growing birds healthy and free from parasites, and without proper feed to grow their bodies he could never get them to lay the eggs they are bred to lay. One entire section of the farm is given over to pullet growing houses out on range. In pedigree hatching it is necessary to start many broods. He finds it more satisfactory to cultivate and seed down the range around the houses than to attempt to move the houses. With his arrangement he can pipe water to the houses. His water fountains are automatic.

For a number of years Leo has fed Purina Chick Startena. Last spring he fed Startena Checker-Etts for the first time. He says: "I like Checker-Etts better than mash. There's less waste, it's easier to get the chicks started, and they don't have to spend as much time around the trough to get what they need".

Birds are changed to Growena Checker-Etts and Checkers after eating two pounds of Startena Checker-Etts. They are moved to the laying houses at 5 months.

A little insight as to the effectiveness of this program was gotton on October 19 when I went from house to house looked at the record cards. In one typical house there were 225 birds 6½ months old. The average production from that house for the four preceeding days was 175 eggs. Here were birds laying at a rate of 77 per cent right at the time when eggs were most in demand. Maybe that explains why Leo Fuchs chooses to call his farm Ideal Poultry Farm.

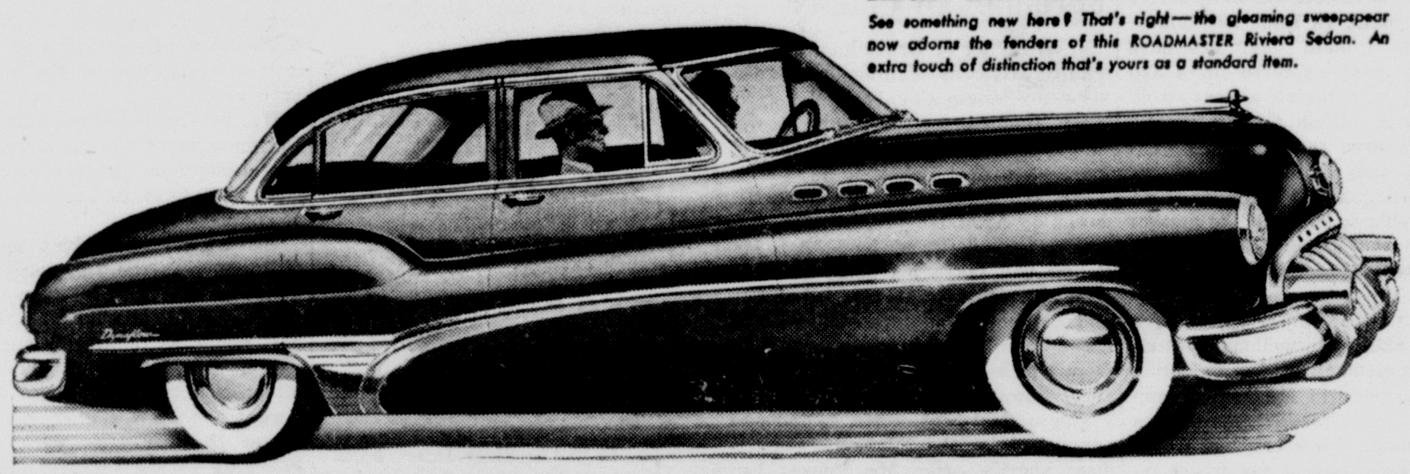
BRIGHT NEW TOUCH TO A BIG BOLD BEAUTY
See something new here? That's right—the gleaming sweepspear now adorns the fenders of this ROADMASTER Riviera Sedan. An extra touch of distinction that's yours as a standard item.



What's the secret of the "UNRUFFLED" RIDE?

SOME car makers say springs make the ride—and so we give every Buick four of the soft, gentle coil springs practically all cars use on front wheels only.

Some say the drive is important—how power is transmitted to the rear wheels.

We agree—and use a torque-tube drive, that takes up all the thrust, freeing rear springs of driving pulsation.

Some stress tires—so you'll find low-pressure casings on every Buick, mounted on our own kind of Safety-Ride rims. Some play up shock absorbers—we make ours fast, soft and sure in action, to wash out all "after-bounce."

Then there are frames—and car weight—and engine mountings, which on Buick are a very special kind used nowhere else.

They're all important—yet the plain truth is no one of these things—or two or three—gives a ride you can truly call "unruffled."

We feel it takes all of them—springs, tires, shock absorbers, drive, engine mountings—carefully and precisely brought into balance with each other.

You can see why we think so in any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER.

You can feel it on cobblestones and car tracks, washboardy gravel and weather-pocked macadam, country lane and city street. You even feel it on boulevards, which grow still smoother when you travel them in a Buick—especially when it has Dynaflow Drive*.

So we would like you to try a ride that is truly "unruffled." Free of harshness—undisturbed by jounce and jitter—level—steady-going—smooth.

Just ask any Buick dealer for a chance to try out any Buick. You'll find it "the ride of a lifetime"—and the buy of a lifetime too!

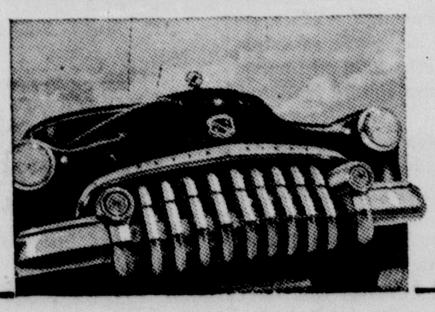
FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT
This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.



Only Buick has Dynaflow and with it goes:
HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

Rubber Check Trial Bounces To Bell County

HEARNE, April 26—The second trial of S. B. Jones on a charge of passing worthless checks was ordered transferred to Bell county today.

Judge W. S. Barron of Robertson county granted the motion for a change of venue, asked by Jones' attorneys.

Jones, a former Hearne insurance man, was accused of giving the now defunct First State Bank of Franklin $81,000 in worthless checks. Six indictments were returned against him. He was convicted on one of them and is now serving a five-year prison sentence.

His attorneys asked for a change of venue for his trial on another of the bad check indictments because, they said, of prejudice here.

The decision to transfer the case to Belton, Bell county, was made today after Judge Barron had heard 41 witnesses. The hearing on the change of venue began last Monday.

Earl Williams who served the First Spiritualist Church in Cameron last week has gone to Austin where he will serve the church there. While here he was guest in the homes of Mrs. Jim Crouch and Mrs. Henry McLane.

BUILDING VOLUME HERE IS AVERAGE

Building permits in the City of Cameron for April totaled $22,219.50 according to W. H. Stafford, City Secretary.

At the time the above figures were compiled Mr. Stafford disclosed that the total for the first four months of the year is $92,994.00. This figure indicates that progress in Cameron is about as usual and if the remainder of the year brings a volume equal to the first quarter the total will be around $370,000.00 and that would be about the average of the post war years.

Permits for April in large measure are for new homes and this has been true of construction since the first of January. Few business buildings have been erected in the City the last few years but home building has maintained steady progress.

New homes are being built in practically every section of the City and where being constructed for sale by contractors are being occupied by home owners. Many individuals have built new homes and while the City has fallen far below the average of many other communities in new construction.

Building here has been of a substantial nature and not on a boom basis. Since the close of the late war building in the City has totaled around a million and half dollars.

THREAT OF WAR IS BOOSTER FOR DEFENSE

WASHINGTON, April 26 — The House Appropriations Committee voted $300,000,000 for new warplanes today shortly after Defense Secretary Louis Johnson warned that recent moves by Russia do not present a "happy prospect."

The committee also decided to give the armed forces another $50,000,000 to convert Naval vessels for anti-submarine warfare—thus covering two of the three "vital" defense needs which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower recently said were not receiving adequate attention. Eisenhower also urged more money for Alaskan bases.

At the same time, Chairman Carl Vinson, Democrat of Georgia, of the House Armed Services Committee, said he will ask Congress next week to extend the present draft law for two years. Vinson previously wanted to let the draft die June 24. He said worsening world conditions changed his mind.

While the Administration has asked for extension of the draft law expiring in June ,there have been no draft calls since January 1949 and opposition has built up against continuance of the act.

Vinson said his committee will open hearings Tuesday on the matter, with Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the first witness.

Vinson said it would be very unwise to let the act die with world conditions shifting so rapidly.

The full appropriations group acted within two hours after Johnson told House and Senate subcommittees that the Russian atomic bomb explosion had come "somewhat in advance of the date we had anticipated."

This, he said, caused a complete revaluation of defense plans by both the United States and the North Atlantic Pact nations. He added he had delayed his recommendations until he had a chance to talk with defense ministers of the treaty nations recently at The Hague.

The plane-buying funds include $200,000,000 for new Air Force planes and $100,000,000 for Navy aircraft. This would be in addition to the $2,000,000,000 provided in the omnibus appropriations bill, now before the House, for plane procurement.

In a surprise appearance before Senate and House appropriations subcommittees, Johnson asked for a total increase in military spending of $553,000,000. The other $203,000,000 would restore a cut ordered by the appropriations committee for various items. The committee promised to consider this later .

In addition to the new funds, Johnson asked authority to transfer $24,000,000 already in the budget to the tank program.

The committee's action would raise total military spending for the 12 months starting July 1 to $14,261,127,300. Always in the past, Johnson had insisted that the original military spending proposals were sufficient under present conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Turnham of Long Beach, California have arrived in Texas for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Pierce at Hanover and to visit with friends in and around Cameron. Mr. Turnham is with the Long Beach Tile Company and is on a two weeks vacation.

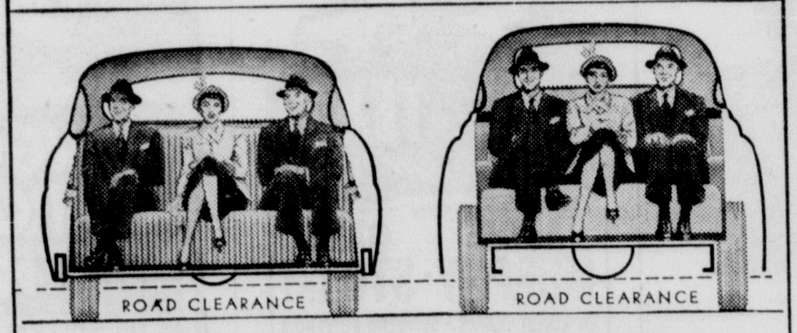
Why HUDSON'S recessed floor means Most Room! Best Ride! Safest!

Hudson's "step-down" design brings benefits in room, riding qualities and safety not obtainable in any other car at any price!



HUDSON

"Step-down" design, with its recessed floor, uses space between frame members that other cars waste. The result is America's lowest center of gravity (and full road clearance), while providing more head room and seating room than any other car.

OTHER CARS

All other cars have floor on top of frame, so they fail to utilize the vital space between frame members. Result is a higher center of gravity and either a high roof line or insufficient head room. Seats are narrower; passenger space is less.

WHEN you try Hudson's "New Step-Down Ride," we believe you will find it a delightfully new experience. For Hudson is the only motor car with a recessed floor ("step-down" design). This results in the lowest-built car of them all, with true streamlining and magnificent beauty.

It provides full road clearance and the most room in any automobile at any price! It creates America's lowest center of gravity, which brings you the best and safest ride ever known. Won't you accept your Hudson dealer's invitation—enjoy "The New Step-Down Ride" soon?

The new, lower-priced Pacemaker brings you all of Hudson's exclusive advantages for just a few dollars more than the lowest-priced cars!

Two New Voting Precincts May Be Created in County

Two new voting precincts may be created in Milam County by the commissioners court on recommendation of the Democratic Executive committee.

At its meeting two years ago committees asked the court to create another voting precinct in Cameron and Rockdale. The court took favorable action on the recommendation and held the mater in obeyance until such time as precinct lines could be determined.

In the primary election in July 1948 more than 700 votes were polled in the city of Rockdale. This number is too large for a ballot such as voters cast in a primary. By creating another voting precinct work can be speeded up and tabulation on this long and complicated ballot with a result that election returns can be made in time to meet the requirements of the law.

In the City of Cameron more than 700 votes were polled in precinct 1 and substantial this number was polled in precinct 22.

It is contemplated that these additional voting boxes will be used in primary elections and during presidential year elections when long and complicated ballots are necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ridout, son and daughter of Galveston spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tindall and attended a shower for Logene Clark and Sam Tindall given at Marlow Saturday evening.

GAUSE FAMILY LEADS WELFARE ACTIVITY

Having five small children may not create a new sense of personal responsibility: it should mean a wider appreciation of the needs of other children in a community!

Thus, the Weafers of Gause, with their five youngsters, explain their part in the founding of the Milk Bowl, the national classic for "small fry" elevens, played annually at Cameron. Last fall, Mrs. Weaefer made the suggestion for such a Bowl to a Dalias radio commentator, then Mr. Weafer, together with the commentator and citizens of Gause, carried on to found the game and The Milk Bowl, Inc.

Chambers of Commerce in Texas have now begun nominating peewee teams from their localities for consideration next fall as the opponent of the out of state team, probably the Red Grange coached Chicago peewee champions. Plans are going forward for the Milam County Championship game to be played as a preliminary feature. Play by play broadcast ,halftime activities, evening festivities, appearance of several Western movie stars, and possibly the filming of a commercial relsease picture are among the items on the schedule. Proceeds would go to the establishmen of a boys' ranch in Milam County for homeless and underprivileged lads.

The Weafers returned last year from a remote section of the Navajo Reservation in the Monument Valley area: road maps say, "Do not enter this region without a guide." The Weafers lived among the near-primitive Indians for two years without seeing a town, while Mr. Weafer taught English to adolescent Navajos. The stay was not without excitement the falling, near their home, of a "meteorite" that was said by experts to be a guided missile ("flying saucer"); the setting off of a new, intensified uranium rush, when nationally syndicated stories appeared about Weafer family adventures, saying that "the Weafer children played with uranium (carnotite type) that they found in their own back yard"; being snowed in and having Army "Operation Haylift" bring in food and medicine to the area; having eminent visitors, including Mr. and Mrs. Will Rogers, Jr.; having wild animals—bears, mountain lion, and wolves, in the vicinity; and so on. Then, there was always the knowledge that, several years before, there had been an Indian uprising in the community, and the district governor and his wife had been carried off into the mountains for "special treatment".

Taking civilization to Navajos and promoting peewee football in Texas are not the only welfare contributions of the Weafers. Mr. Weafer, not long ago, organized and founded a college of 500 students, and was given national recognition for community service by being listed in a civic "Who's Who."

"The essence of the moral law", says Weafer, "is the extension of the ethics of family life in the community, then into the state and nation, and finally into the world at large. This is the meaning of being your brother's keeper, and the real solution of political, economic, and social ills."

The five little Weafers are: Clyde 7; Virginia, 7; Sarah Belle, 4; Trudy, 3; and Ernest, 1. Mr. Weafer is a native of Bexar County; Mrs. Weafer and the children of Burleson County. Mrs. Mary Bailey, great-great grandmother of the children lives in Milam County just outside of Cameron.

ROTARIANS HEAR GAUSE MAN SPEAK HERE

Gene (Dixie) Walker of Gause, one of the main promoters of the "Pee-Wee" football games and Milk Bowl contests, spoke to the Cameron Rotary Club on April 26 about his plans for opening a dogwood trail in Milam County. He said near-by cities would profit greatly, that Hearne had offered to send him a grader and bull dozer for use in fixing the roads, that he had talked to Caldwell citizens who were interested, and that he would get cooperation from Rockdale. He called attention to the loss of population in Milam County, saying that in 1935 there were 10,644 school children enrolled, but there had been a steady decline and that in 1949 there were only 5643, almost a fifty per cent reduction. He said, "There are things we can do to stop these people from moving away from Milam County, and cause them to return". He stated that thousands of city people, when ready to retire, "do not want to live in the city, they want to come out in the country", and "if they all spend money, you will average better than $1200.00 a year from each person spent each year in Milam County".

We quote from his address as follows: "I visited Palestine and talked to those people last Tuesday and spent all day up there. They tell me that this last spring over 100,000 automobiles" from a distance, including those from 35 different states, "passed through their 500 acre dogwood park. That is a lot of people. They estimated there were four people in each car, 400,000 people passed through there", and "the surrounding town, Athens, Crockett, Jacksonville and as far south as Huntsville, get benefits from it"; and estimated the money spent by these visitors amounted to many thousands of dollars each year, saying "We can use that much money". He stressed the fact that "people visiting in Anderson County to see dogwood trails ten or twelve years back are now living in that county; they came back."

He said that "here in Milam County we have two complete dogwood forests that would cover as much as 20 acres so thick that in another four or five years, if we keep fire from them as we have been doing, there will be millions of dogwood trees. It is one of the most beautiful sights when they are in bloom.

Just in one forest of ten acres, part of a 20 acre tract, there are more dogwood trees than you have got in the whole park in Palestine. They are like a pine grove, and when in bloom they look like a snow bank". He stated that in Palestine they "have a beautiful drive, but what we have here in Milam County so far as dogwood is concerned, we have them beat five to one". He further said that what we need "is a small amount of money to commence financing and fixing the impassable part of the roads". Some roads have to be built and some have to be widened.

His plan is some day to erect buildings as Boy and Girl Scout camps in what he calls "The Bear Thicket", where there are forty or fifty large trees surrounding an open space, the trees being so large that it "takes three people to reach around some of them".

He feels that we can get plenty of free publicity, and that we could ultimately equal, if not surpass, Palestine in attendance, and that cafes, drug stores, filling stations and dealers in cold drinks, like Coca Cola and Dr. Pepper, would have increased sales of merchandise, and that we "would have people who would come in the week times, lots of people passing through there". In speaking of Palestine he said, "There is a big jam on Sundays, they drive bumper to bumper, jammed together in four lanes."

To raise money to start the project, Mr. Walker is having printed 1000 tickets to be sold right now for $1.00 per ticket, each ticket entitling a car-load of people to view the dogwood forests next spring. This money will be used to make the roads passable and to build bridges and to put up markers. He offers, if others will only cooperate, to himself see to all this work being properly done and guarantees that the trails through our dogwood forests will be opened by next spring. Next spring those not already owning tickets will be required to purchase them. Every cent of the money raised will be used in making the roads passable, and if and when any surplus may accumulate, Mr. Walker intends to use that in erecting camps for Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, and thereafter for the benefit of crippled children. He said, "You may ask 'what do I get out of it', I want to say I get out of it just what I get out of the Pee-Wee football games—nothing. I put my money in it and my work and I am proud of it".

Mr. Walker has one other plan to help raise the necessary money to fix the trails, the roads, the bridges and the markers. He said that if anyone "would like to have dogwood put in their yards, they can be taken from this forest and put in the yards for $5.00 apiece"; and that he would see to the trees being planted in the yards, but that this would not be done until November or December.

Mr. Walker closed his address with the statements, "I would like to get tarted on this if you think it would help Cameron and Milam County and the people of Milam County", and "I will be glad to fit in and help you, and you can help me put it over".

BUYING IS HEAVY ALL OVER NATION

NEW YORK, May 2—More and more business men are betting on good days ahead. Executives are backing their bets with forward orders. Many who were buying on a 30 to 60-day basis are switching over to 60 to 90-day buying.

This inventory boom is in direct contrast to the inventory recession which the same business men were staging just a year ago.

During the year corporate inventories dropped by $4.7 billion to $43.8 billion. Now they appear to be on their way up again. But production and sales are on the way up, too. And some companies are producing at a much faster rate than they had expected. As a result, they find their stocks of raw materials dwindling and rush to replenish so that they can keep going full blast for at least 90 days ahead.

New orders placed with manufacturers in March hit a post-war high, the Department of Commerce reports. They were 14 per cent higher than in February, and also 14 per cent higher than last year. The largest gain in new orders was in durable goods, with orders exceeding sales.

Manufacturers sales in March were highest in 15 months. Biggest sales gains were reported in lumber, furniture ,general machinery, motor vehicle and non-ferrous metals industries.

In fact, sales were so good that in spite of the increased ordering inventories in durable goods rose only slightly in March.

Moreover, the business survey committee of the National Association of Purchasing Agents, in its April report published today, sees little chance of a runaway inventory boom. In most companies it finds cautious buying policies continuing. The fact that "with few exceptions industrial materials can be obtained in the time required" helps the cautious buyer to keep from getting caught short.

But the production department in many companies is putting more pressure on the purchasing agent. The NAPA finds that increased production in the first weeks of the year was cutting into stocks a little faster than they were being replaced.

Fruit Tree Spray Formula Is Given

(By J. D. Moore, County Agent)

Prolonged dormancy in most varieties of peaches will reduce the peach crop in the East Texas Area. In some localities, there was sufficient cold weather to give the trees a rest period, but the cold season came too late. Peach trees must have 750 hours of temperature below 40' F. before February 15 to produce a normal bloom.

There will likely be heavy shedding of young fruits that are beginning to show up on the trees at this time. The reason for shedding will be a lack of foliage to maintain the sap flow for the young fruits. All varieties of fruits are from two to 4 weeks late in the regular blooming period It is suggested that those trees which have set a fair crop and have some leaf foliage coming out at the present time, be sprayed with 2 pounds of lead arsenate, 3 pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT and 4 pounds of hydrated lime to 100 gallons of water to protect them from curculio damage. If the leaves have come out on the trees, 6 pounds of wettable sulphur and 3 pounds of zinc sulphate, can be added to this mixture. If the foliage has not come out, omit the wettable sulphur and zinc sulphate until the second spraying is done in 10 to 14 days.

Of the varieties showing the most promise at this time, Burbank's Early July Elberta has set the heaviest crop. This would indicate that in the southeastern part of East Texas, that future plantings should include this variety. Let's hope that we do not have this condition repeated again in the next several years.

Peaches and Plums: Although curculio has not yet made its apeparance in attacking peaches on any scale, it is quite active in plums. Bruce plums should be kept well covered with a mixture of 2 pounds lead arsenate, 3 pounds wettable sulphur, 4 pounds lime, 3 pounds zinc sulphate (25 per cent) to 100 gallos of water. The second sprays have already been applied by now. This dose should be enough to destroy anything. What do you think? It is is possible that there will be another curculio generation in about 4 weeks. In late May another lead arsenate and DDT combination should be applied.

June Beetles: June beetles are beginning to cause trouble to shade trees and pecan trees throughout East Texas. Dr. H. G. Johnston states that 3 pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT per 100 gallons of water, applied over the surface of the leaves is the best remedy for this pest. Remember that spraying before damage is done or as soon as the beetles begin work is essential. About 3 nights of feeding and the foliage is gone from the tree. Moral: Don't delay spraying or dusting. Moisture on the surface of the leaves is necessary to stick the dust and a 5 per cent dust will do the job if it is properly applied.

Pecan Nut Casebearer: During the first 15 days in May, the pecan nut casebearer will begin damaging the current season's pecan crop. The prospects for the pecan crop look very good at the present time, but if the pecan nut casebearer is not controlled there is no insurance that a good crop will be harvested. The proper time to control the pecan nut casebearer is to spray when the small pecans have turned brown on the end. At that season, the pollen catkins will have seed from the trees and the small clusters on nutlets will be conspicuous at the end of the new growth on the trees. Spray the trees thoroughly with 3 pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT, 6 pounds of wettable sulphur to 100 gallons of water. Thoroughness in spraying is essential.

Milam Field Day At Black Land Station On May 17

The Crops and Conservation Committee of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce met this week and selected May 17th as the date for Milam County Field Day at the Blackland Experiment Station, according to Max Howard, Chairman .

J. D. Moore, County Agent, visited the Station and worked out plans for the tour with Dr. J. R. Johnston, Superintendent. Milam County farmers are to be at the Station by 1 p. m. on May 17 to start the tour.

The committee is of the opinion that Milam County farmers can well afford to take off one-half day to see results of crop tests.

Committee members attending the meeting were J. Max Howard, Chairman, Roy Wright, Co-Chairman, Hubert Colburn, Claude Triggs, Lesser Newton, and J. D. Moore, County Agent.

SIX PERSONS DIE IN TEXAS AND OKLAHOMA

Savage tornadoes tore at Oklahoma and Texas late Friday, killing at least six persons—possibly nine—and seriously injuring at least 35.

Scores of homes and other buildings were twisted to kindling by spinning black funnels that swooped down to strike in at least six spots.

Pounding hail—in some places bigger than baseballs—added to the damage, as thunder rumbled and lightning flashed in accompaniment to the twisters.

The Oklahoma forecast called for "strong, shifting" winds Saturday and Saturday night. A forcaster said conditions "are just right" for more twisters.

Perhaps the hardest-hit Friday was Holdenville, an East Central Oklahoma town. The Red Cross said five persons died there and 100 were injured.

An officer said nearly every house in the northeast section of Holdenville was damaged or destroyed.

At Clyde, 16 miles east of Abilene, three members of one family died trapped in their house by a tornado. The whirlwind caused at least five injuries there. Two or three families were reported missing.

Four miles south of Hobart, Okla., a twister smashed into a farm neighborhood and killed a farmer and his wife. The funnel damaged two or three buildings there.

Two twisters struck south and southeast of Abilene, but no injuries were reported. Another small tornado hit southwest of Rochester, a community between Wichita Falls and Abilene, and blew down several buildings but injured no one. At Leuders, lightening set an oil tank farm ablaze.

The dead at Holdenville included a boy tentaively identified as 15-year-old Gene Walker.

Mrs. Bert Tabor and their unmarried daughter, Annie, about 31. Their bodies were taken to Abilene.

Four injured persons from Clyde were taken to a hospital at Baird. They are Jeff Griffin, his wife, and two sons, K. D. and Kenneth.

Killed by the Hobart tornado was farmer R. A. Glasscock. His wife was hurt.

Mrs. R. W. Hester and son, Richard of Fort Worth are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wells Smith here this week. Mrs. Hester will give a book review at the Study Club Tuesday. They also visited other relatives and friends in Cameron.

Lady Milam Famous White Leghorn Hen On Ideal Farm Sets National Record

Lady Milam is in the spot light again in a big way.

She is the prize white Leghorn hen at the Ideal Poultry farm of Leo Fuch and for more than ten years has been the sensation and pride of the poultry world. No other individual has been responsible for more publicity and attention focused upon this area than has Lady Milam.

This time Lady Milam is prominently pictures on the cover of Checkerboard News in a striking photograph with her owner Leo Fuch. Recently a nation wide search was made to establish whether or not this famous hen might lay a claim to a record equaled in egg production. The result of this survey has not disclosed any other such record and Lady Milam, the aristocrat, of the poultry world clucking away happily at her feed ben in special quarters at the Fuch Poultry farm seemed quiet proud of herself and judging from the smile while she is held up affectionalely by Mr. Fuch when she posed for a photobrapher recently at her home on the Buckholts road, it is pretty certain that her owner leaves nothing undone to insure the very best of care for this famous hen.

Lady Milam not only has laid 1455 eggs in nine years her daughters have carried on this great record. One of her daughters known as hen No. 354 laid 875 eggs in her first three years then added 191 eggs in her fourth year to bring her total to 1064 an average of 266 eggs per year.

Lady Milam's production for nine years would fill 4 crates and half a basket. Her record is the subject for a special article in Checkerboard News published by Purina Feeds and written by J. H. McAdams.

HOUSE GROUP INCREASES TAX CUT TO 967 MILLION

WASHINGTON, April 28—Slashes in Taxas on passenger travel, freight, cabarets, telephone calls and telegrams were voted Friday by the House Ways and Means Committee in boosting total tax cuts to $967,000,000 a year.

The tax-writing group agreed to cut in half the 3 per cent tax on transportation of property and to reduce the levy on personal travel from 15 to 10 per cent. Resulting revenue loss is estimated at $240,000,000 annually.

The committee, which is drafting a new tax bill, approved these reductions in communications levies:

Local residential telephone calls and all calls costing less than 25 cents, from 15 to 10 per cent; long distance calls, from 25 to 20 per cent; telegraph, radio-telephone and cable dispatches, from 25 to 10 per cent, and leased wires, 25 to 20 per cent.

The total reductions approved by the committee exceed by $312,000,000 a year the "limit" which President Truman asked Congress to observe.

The committee still has not considered reduction of wartime liquor and tobacco tax increases or stamp levies on documents. It also has before it the president's recommendation for a tax on television sets.

Otherwise, the group has completed its work on the excise levies, although actions taken are tentative and subject to reconsideration later.

The committee agreed to reduce from 4 to 2 cents a short ton the tax on transportation of coal.

O. J. Thomas Faculty To Prsent 3-Act Drama

On Friday, May 5, at 8 o'clock, the O. J. Thomas faculty will present 'Betty Jane From Punkin Lane", a comedy drama in three acts. This is not the first dramatic presentation by the faculty. The one-act drama, "Stoney's Bridges", which was staged by the faculty a few years ago, will long be remembered. This, however, is the first attempt at a play of such length.

"Betty Jane From Punkin Lane" is a heart-warming story of life that is sure to capture the hearts of all drama lovers. How Betty (Miss V. Ritcherson) and her lovable aunt (Mrs. L. C. Palmer), aided by Harvey Higgins (C. L. Sadberry), the city gentleman, manage to out-do the squire (E. L. Aycox), who attempts to beat them out of their property weaves a plot that carries suspense from beginning to end.

Laughs are furnished by Johnny Finch (D. S. Poole), the village chore boy, and Prudence Putter (Mrs. L. B. Montgomery), the old maid who is in love with Hank Hardwater (T. W. Moore), while Ketchy Finch (Miss G. D. Crawford) and Martha Simmons (Mrs. H. L. Burks) portray the rustic beauty of country life. Gordon Gilbert (L. Randall), the city artist, and his sister Gertrude (Mrs. M. L. Humphrey) add romantic interest to the play as they find and accept love in the country much to the dismay of their city mother, Mrs. Gilbert (Mrs. R. E. Hall).

The play under the direction of Mrs. L. M. Shepard will be staged in the auditorium of the O. J. Thomas School, Mr. C. L. Sadberry, Principal. Adult tickets are on sale for thirty-five cents.

Wiley P. Mangum of Austin, former resident here has accepted a place with the Cameron Fruit Co. He is well known in wholesale grocery circles and for many years was with another wholesale house here. Mrs. Thelma Hughes of Houston is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Baggerly here for a few days.

Gause Will Never Be The Same Again; Pee Wee Football Team Spotlights Town As Nation Follows Example Set By Citizens There; Boys Program Cements Community

By EDWARD F. LONDON, In Houston Chronicle

Something fine is happeing over in Gause, Texas, a town of 750 population on State Highway 79, in the northeastern corner of Milam County.

No new factories are being built; there is no residence building boom; Varner's General Store is about the only modern front on Main Street and the cotton gins are closed because the agricultural trend is toward raising cattle, hogs and vegetables (Gause folks shipped 31 carloads of tomatoes in 1949, against nine carloads in 1948).

Everything was serene in October of 1949. The people of Gause went about their business in their customary way. The town, unincorporated, continued to run itself without benefit of mayor, city council, or politics. There just wasn't anything to get excited about.

Then came the event that was to weld the entire community into a tightly knit group: The organization of the "Milk Bowl Game" for peewee footballers. And, since then, Gause has never been the same. As a result of the "Milk Bowl" there has been a rebirth of civic spirit in which one can sense immense pride in accomplishment and secure Knowledge that nothing is impossible that can be imagined.

It began when Mrs. Elizabeth Weafer, wife of Eugent Clyde Weafer, teacher and athletic director of Gause School, listened to a radio program about a peewee football game in an Eastern city.

She wrote a letter to Ralph Widman, sports director of a Dallas radio station, explaining that football had just been introduced at the Gause School and that "in five starts, our peewee team remains unbeaten. If there is a special game for peewee players, please let us know."

That did it! Through Mr. Widman, the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, and the all-out effort of Gause citizenry, "Milk Bowl, Inc." was organized under a state charter.

On the surface, this doesn't seem very important to the general scheme of things. But the entire character of the community has changed since then. Petty differences have melted away, and the entire population of Gause is working together as a team in a supreme effort to put Gause on the map.

From the time when the first house was built by Major William Gause in 1855, until October of 1949, Gause was just a small farming community that has been described as "the town that Texas forgot."

Although this year will show an increase in the production of sweetcorn, cantaloupes, watermelons and tomatoes, there is still no railroad station on the Missouri Pacific, which runs through Gause. Before the new bridge was built across the Brazos River, it was necessary for travelers from Gause to Houston to go by way of Cameron. Now it is possible to cross the river to Hearne, 12 miles away, and join Highway 6 for a straight run to Houston. As a result of the "Milk Bowl" interest, Milam County authorities are getting steamed up about the possibility of building a hard surface road from Cameron through Gause to Highway 6. This will make Gause a crossroad town and will undoubtedly improve local business conditions.

For a period of 10 years, Gause School had been without men teachers, and lacked competitive sports, Through the Gilmer-Aiken Act, the school board was able to employ two men teachers and two football teams were organized. One of the teams was the varsity, composed of eighth and ninth grade boys; the other was the famous peewe team, which was to father the new Gause community spirit.

"In the first games, the boys felt pretty low when their opponents came on the field dressed in regular football uniforms," said Gene (Dixie) Walker, former Texas League baseball star. "Our kids had only blue jeans and sweat shirts and no helmets." His admiration aroused by the competitive spirit of the boys, none of whom weighed more than 100 pounds, Walker personally solicited funds to buy equipment.

Now a farmer and cowman, Walker is proud of the way Gause folks have backed the peewees. Joe Moore, former outfield star of the New York Giants National League baseball team, is president of the "bowl" committee. Ralph Widman is vice-president. The other board members are: Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Varner, Mr. Walker, Terry Moore and Eugene C. Weafer.

Mr. Weafer, athletic director of Gause School, saw the need for an athletic program when he joined the school this past year. His efforts and ideas have contributed much to the "Milk Bowl" organization.

The old Masonic Hall building, donated by Mr. Varner and others, is being turned into a community recreation center for young and old alike. A softball field has been built from the proceeds of the "Milk Bowl" game of last fall. There seems to be a renewed interest in the older folks also. A promise has been made that no elderly person will be kept from enjoying the annual bowl game because of lack of funds or transportation.

Declaring Gause a suburb of Cameron, the Cameron Chamber of Commerce has adopted the "Milk Bowl" game. The game will be played annually at Cameron, preceding the Christmas holiday. But, one of these days, Gause expects to have a stadium of its own, and then "Kids Day," which has been proclaimed a legal holiday for everybody in Gause.

Lacking a local newspaper (The Houston Chronicle has the largest circulation there), Gause folks get the local news from bulletins pasted on the big windows in Varner's Store. There, they learn the name of the latest movie to be shown every Monday night in the school auditorium, where a plaque is being placed which quotes Ralph Widman as saying: "You do not measure a city by the size of its buildings, but by the quality of its people. In my book, the biggest city in the world is Gause, Texas, United States of America."

taining roads is much more of a problem than in the sand areas. It has been necessary for him to improve his equipment by adding new machinery and this he has done with the greatest possible economy.

Every section of the precinct has received attention because Mr. Raney has kept his pledge to see to it that tax payers in all areas receive their share of road building and maintenance. He hopes to see construction of more farm to market roads on his precinct with the State taking over maintenance thus releasing to him more funs to consentrate on areas where the need is great.

Mr. Raney has maintained experienced maintenance men in his precinct and has given his personal attention to all work redeeming his pledge that he would become a working commissioner.

Mr. Raney hopes to see all of the voters of his precinct during the coming pre-election campaign and will devote as much time away from his duties as possible to see the people and discuss with them their road needs. In the meantime he will greatly appreciate anything his friends may do to bring his race for re-election favorably to the people of the precinct.

VERA FISHER—
tax payers the experience of retaining the services of clerical help.

Miss Fisher comes to the duties of this office well equipped by experience and training to perform these duties and her record of service has justified the confidence expressed in her election by the people of the County. In asking for another term in this office Miss Fisher pledges a continuation of this record which in keeping with the highest tradition of public service in the history of the County.

The office of County Treasurer is important because of its relation to the proper handling of the various funds and the receipt and disbursement of all money necessary to carry on the great volume of business transacted by the County. These duties require special knowledge of the keeping of records and friends point out that Miss Fisher has established herself as one well trained and qualified to hold this office. During the first term which she is now serving she has mastered the details and her coming term will be able to render even a more efficient service than in the past.

During the coming campaign Miss Fisher is hopeful that she may be able to see all of the voters of the County, but due to the fact that she is performing all of the duties of the office and without an assistant, she may not be able to make as thoroughly canvass as might be possible under different circumstances.

Miss Fisher, in this announcement, expresses her deep appreciation for the response occasioned by seeking another term and will be deeply grateful for anything her friends may do in support of her nomination.

In view of the above, the Texas Highway Department has notified the City of Rosebud that the right-of-way through the city on Fifth street must be cleared by not later than June 15. This means that the property owners on Fifth street who have agreed to move buildings, fences, etc., at their own expense must do so not later than June 15. The city of Rosebud has entered into a contract with a house mover to moved the obstructions which the city has agreed to move and this work will probably begin at once.

The letting of the contract for the construction of this section of U. S. Highway 77 is the first step in a series that will, within a few years see Highway 77 completely rebuilt from Cameron to the McLennan county line. The Highway Commission of Texas is most anxious to rebuild Highway 77 through Falls county, as it is acknowledged to be the worst section on Highway 77 from Canada to Mexico.—Rosebud News.

CITY TO TAKE—
ing Company sought a certification of the vote, one of the details necessary in perfecting the record.

Mayor Green went to Oklahoma and on his way back conferred with Company officials in Fort Worth. Before leaving Cameron the Mayor said the city had no contract for the purchase of the plant. It developed later that the City Council had proceeded on the basis of a letter from the Company in which it was agreed to sell the plant. This and other evidence to authorize the transaction formed the basis for action taken by the Council which was approved by the people by 3-1 majority. Mayor Green bitterly opposed the purchase of the plant.

It is doubtful if any formal contract has been entered into since the election.

Mayor Green said he lacked information and indicated Thursday all matters relative to purchase of the plant have been cleared up in his mind. At the regular meeting of the City Council on the first Tuesday in May it is expected that matters will proceed with a better spirit of cooperation and by June 1st the City will begin to realize on it's investment.
